EXPLANATORY NOTES

19. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL ASSETS/(LIABILITIES)

Financial derivatives are instruments whose values change in response to the change in one or more "underlying", such as foreign exchange rate, security price and credit index. They include forwards, swaps, futures, options and credit derivatives. In the normal course of business, the Group and the Bank customise derivatives to meet specific needs of their customers. The Group and the Bank also transact in these derivatives for proprietary trading purposes as well as to manage their assets/liabilities and structural positions. While the Group and the Bank also enter into other foreign exchange forward contracts with the intention to reduce the foreign exchange risk of expected sales and purchases for customers, these other contracts are not designated as hedge relationships and are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The fair values of the financial derivatives are as follows:

The table above analyses the principal amounts and the positive and negative fair values of the Group's and the Bank's financial derivatives. The notional amounts of these instruments indicate the value of transactions outstanding at the reporting date for both trading and hedging instruments. They do not necessarily indicate the amount of future cash flows or the fair value of the derivatives and therefore, do not represent total amount of risk. The positive and negative fair values represent the favourable and unfavourable fair values respectively of hedging and trading derivatives as a result of fluctuations in the value of the underlying relative to their contractual terms as at reporting date.

35. PERFORMANCE REVIEW

For the nine months ended 30 September 2025, the Group posted a profit before tax of RM2,111.2 million, an increase of RM244.6 million or 13.1 percent compared to the same period last year. This improvement was driven by a 11.4 percent or RM204.5 million increase in operating profit with 4.6 percent growth in operating income and 2.4 percent reduction in operating expenses.

Operating income rose to RM3,707.7 million, up from RM3,545.2 million a year ago. This was supported by a 8.5 percent or RM180.6 million increase in net interest income mainly from improved net interest margins. Other operating income declined marginally by RM37.9 million or 3.0 percent, mainly due to lower foreign exchange gain of RM93.7m partly offset by higher trading and investment income of RM63.1m.

Operating expenses were reduced by RM42.0 million to RM1,711.6 million, compared to RM1,753.6 million in the previous year reflecting the Bank's continuous efforts in executing its cost management measures.

The Group recorded a total expected credit loss ("ECL") allowance writeback of RM115.1 million, which was RM40.2 million higher than the RM74.9 million writeback in the same period last year.

Gross loans, advances and financing grew by 3.2 percent to RM111.0 billion, reflecting the Group's commitment in supporting lending activities for both businesses and individuals. Non-bank deposits grew by 4.7 percent to RM120.2 billion, with growth from business enterprises and individuals.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

36. PROSPECTS FOR 2025

The global economy continues to face a mixed outlook as policy frameworks evolve and trade remains volatile. Although some tariff tensions have eased, uncertainty remains high. Despite this, 2025 has shown resilience thanks to front-loading activities, temporary pause in tariffs, supply chain diversification, supportive policy measures, and accommodative monetary conditions. This has helped to offset the cautious stance adopted by firms and investors amid heightened uncertainty. However, the overall environment remains fragile, and many of the temporary factors that buoyed activity in the first half of 2025 may not carry through into 2026. Nonetheless, a key source of strength for ASEAN—and Malaysia in particular—is its proactive stance on trade diplomacy. The expansion of trade agreements and regional cooperation frameworks continues to act as a stabilising force, supporting supply chain diversification and enhancing economic resilience.

Malaysia remains on a moderate growth path, supported by resilient domestic demand, stable labor market conditions, and robust investment activity. Inflation has been subdued—thanks to effective management of subsidy reforms, softer commodity prices, minimal supply disruptions, and absence of excessive demand pressures. While export performance faces headwinds, several supportive factors are underway including wider fiscal support, income policy measures, cash assistance and rollout of catalytic initiatives under the various national plans and the 13th Malaysia Plan. These initiatives will further unlock regional growth across key strategic corridors, including the Northern Corridor, the Johor-Singapore Special Economic Zone (JS-SEZ), Selangor's connectivity and infrastructure network, and Sarawak's emerging renewable energy hub. The upcoming Visit Malaysia Year 2026, which is supported by targeted incentives in the national budget, is poised to further stimulate tourism. Meanwhile, ongoing structural reforms and a gradual path of fiscal consolidation are expected to reinforce long-term economic resilience and sustainability. However, downside risks remain including slower global trade, weaker investor sentiment, and lower-than-expected commodity output, which could weigh on Malaysia's external sector and overall growth trajectory. Caution still guides the outlook but improving fundamentals, policy foresight and proactive risk management offer reasons for optimism.

f. Derivative financial assets/(liabilities)

Financial derivatives are instruments whose values change in response to the change in one or more "underlying', such as foreign exchange rate, security price and credit index. They include forwards, swaps, futures, options and credit derivatives. In the normal course of business, the Bank customises derivatives to meet specific needs of its customers. The Bank also transacts in these derivatives for proprietary trading purposes as well as to manage its assets/liabilities and structural positions. While the Bank also enters into other foreign exchange forward contracts with the intention to reduce the foreign exchange risk of expected sales and purchases for customers, these other contracts are not designated as hedge relationships and are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The fair values of the financial derivatives are as follows:

| As at 30 September 2025 | Contract or underlying principal amount RM'000 | Positive fair value RM'000 | Negative fair value RM'000 |
